

Airline Opportunities – Europe

number of passengers flying the route on indirect services (one-way, indirect pax, January 2011 - December 2011)

Traffic analysis has revealed a range of destinations which show market potential.

The potential is derived from the annual number of passengers travelling on indirect services, which are classified as:

- Indirect passengers on underserved routes (all year direct service available)
- Indirect passengers on unserved routes (no direct service)
- Indirect passengers on only seasonally served routes
